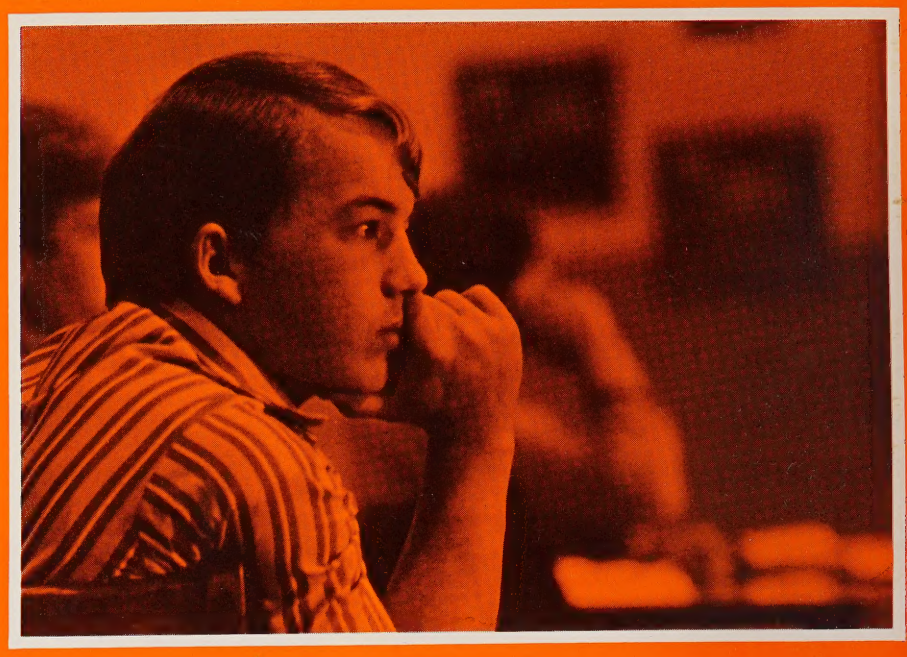
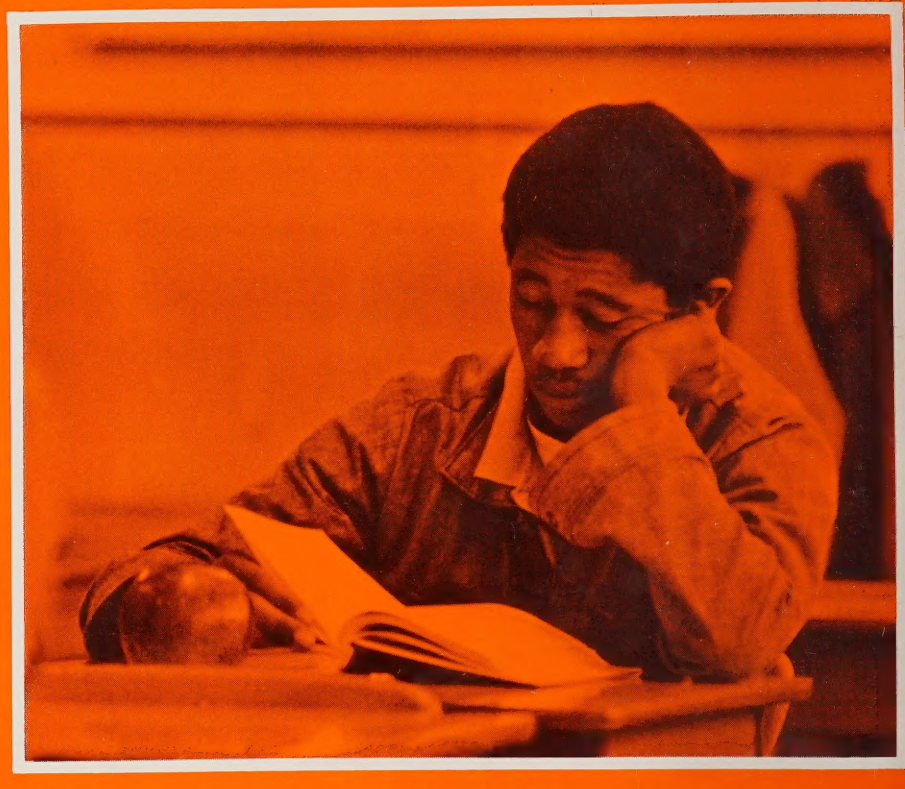
How is it that a youth can be so completely frustrated one moment, so totally elated the next? It is because of MOODS! These are those unpredictable and indefinable moments in life which move ceaselessly and constantly through each of our lives. They take expression in the perseverance and dogged determination of a participant in track, where taking the tape says what youth is all about in 1972-1973. Not only do the moods of loneliness and despair show in the faces of our youth, but also the ecstasy of captured joy — the sheer joy of being alive NOW. All of these express the

MOODS OF YOUTH, 1972-1973.





A portrait of a MOOD

Is reflected in . . .

The mischief of a freshman,

The reservation and guarded dignity of a senior,

The comfortable sprawled body of a hulking football player,

The wrinkled brow,

Deadly boredom,

Total absorption,

Furtive glances,

Dancing eyes.

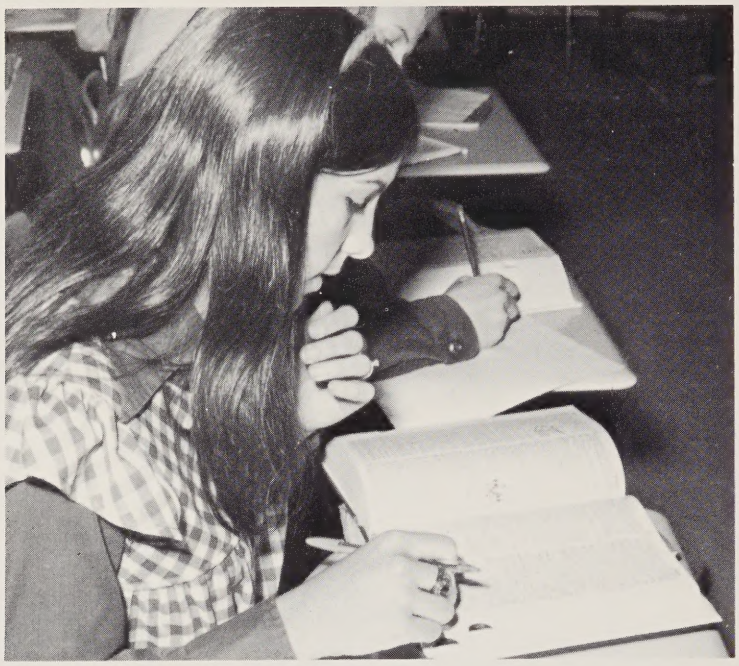
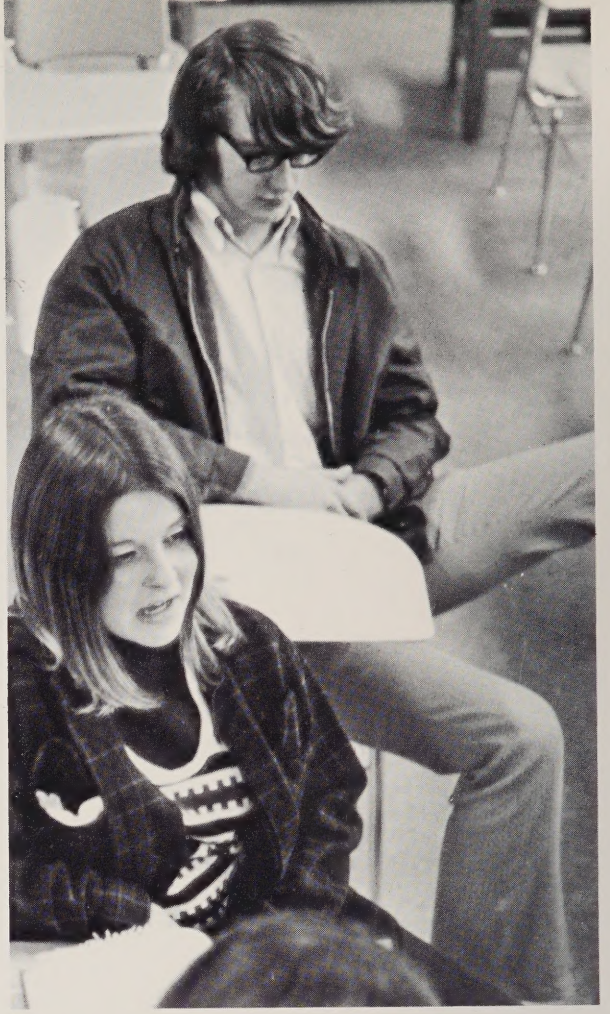
ACADEMICS

LANGUAGE





Irregular verbs, misplaced accents, earphones, Sept d'un Coup, French songs, offbeat jokes, Camel Club, hard work — all of these combined with such teaching techniques as learning games added variety to junior and senior French classes.

French teacher, Mrs. Annie Burley, also taught three senior English classes in which she emphasized particularly short stories and poetry that helped her students understand themselves better. Other highlights of senior English included concentrated study of word origins and the reading of WUTHERING HEIGHTS.

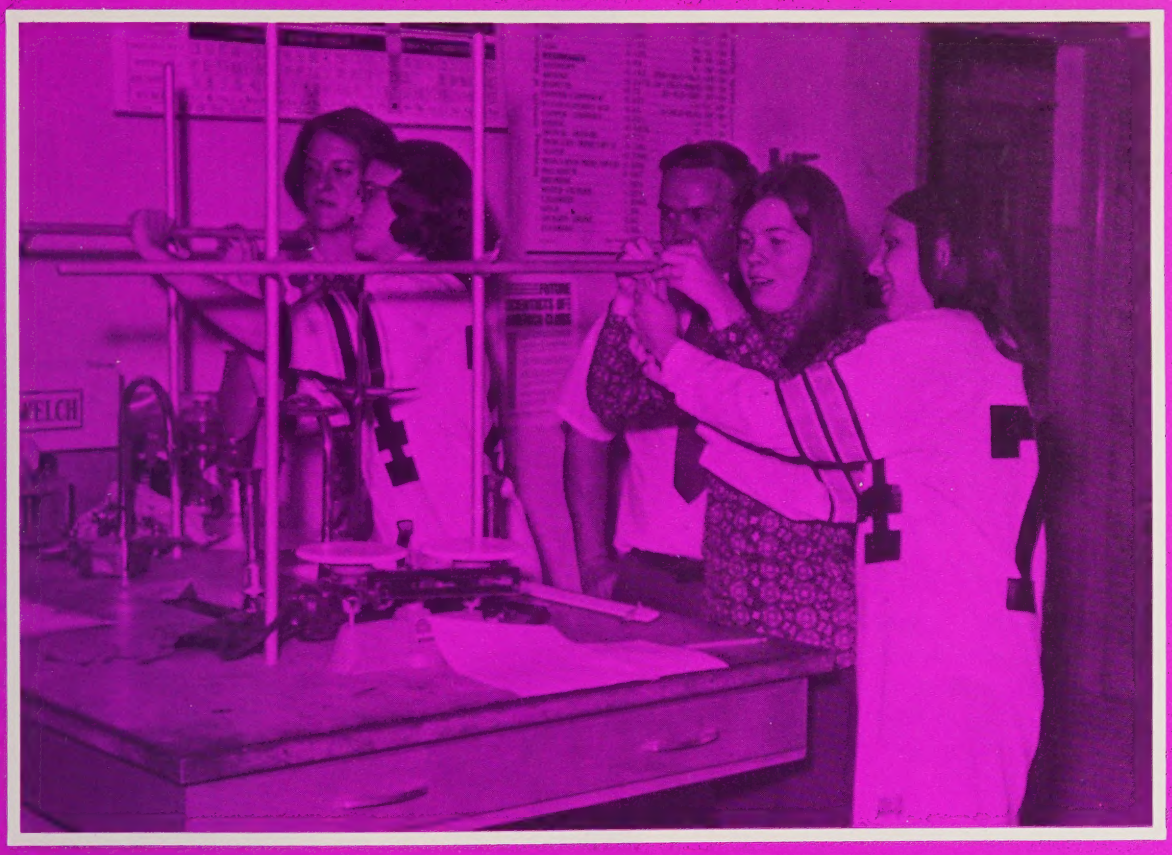
The intensive treatment of American literature in Mr. Dan Pace's classes featured historical and critical attention to authors such as Melville, Hawthorne, and Twain. His sophomore classes did a systematic study of types of literature and concentrated on creative writing, keeping journals of their daily efforts..

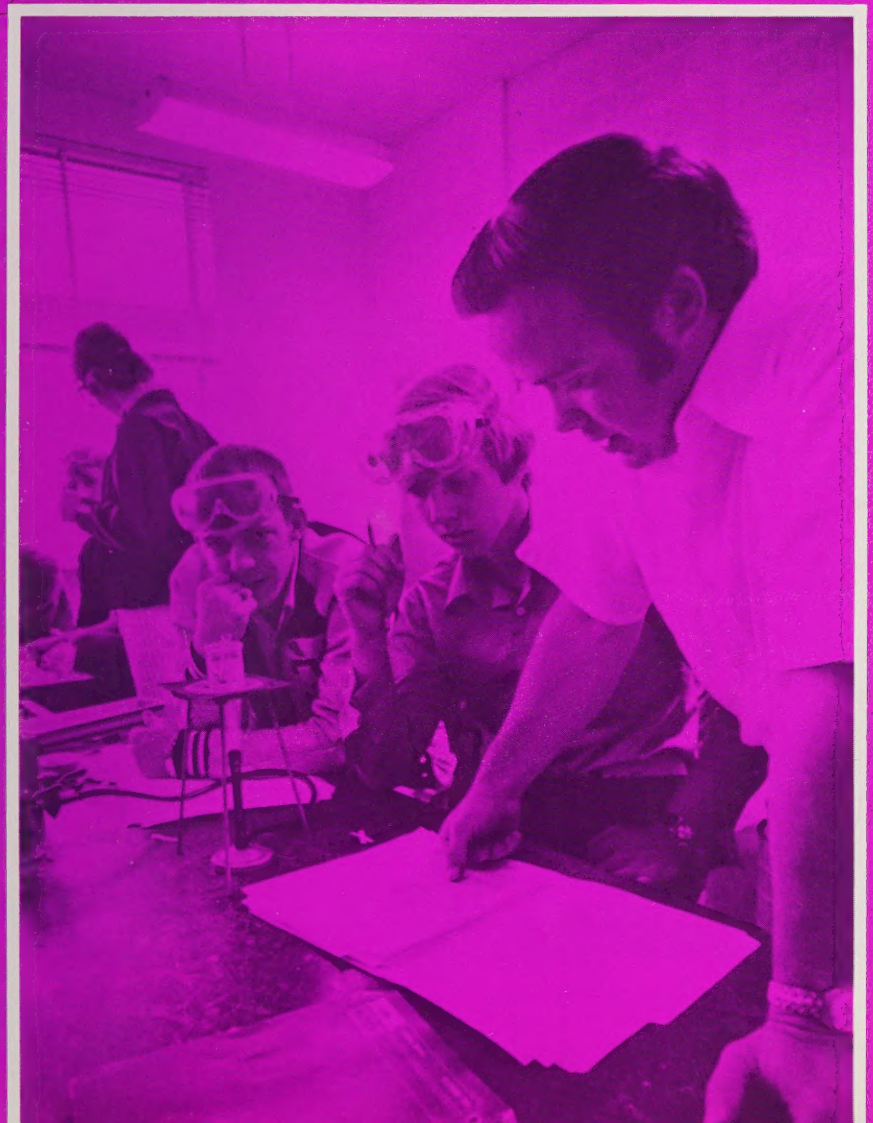
Mrs. Rosemary Pace introduced her freshman English students to such classics as Homer's ODYSSEY and Stevenson's KIDNAPPED.

MATHEMATICS

In his Algebra I classes, Mr. Tester provides a course geared to the needs of both vocational and college-bound students.

Mr. Rogers taught classes in geometry and Algebra II and a special class in advanced mathematics for those planning further college study in the field.





SCIENCE

Mr. Pryor's biology classes and Mr. Henderson's chemistry, advanced biology, and physics classes reflected the wide diversity in modern science study.

Beginning biology featured leaf collection, human anatomy, and the dissection of worms, rats, sharks, and frogs.

Advanced biology students analyzed water samples collected from various areas as a part of their study of water pollution.

In addition to learning the disastrous effects of combining water with potassium chlorate and manganese dioxide, chemistry students spent many hours memorizing valences, equations, and symbols.

Physics study emphasized forces, the mechanics of liquids and gases, and the study of atomic energy.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Study of the political scene was enlivened in Mr. Tester's U.S. History class by reports from Fred Hathcock on his trip to the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach.

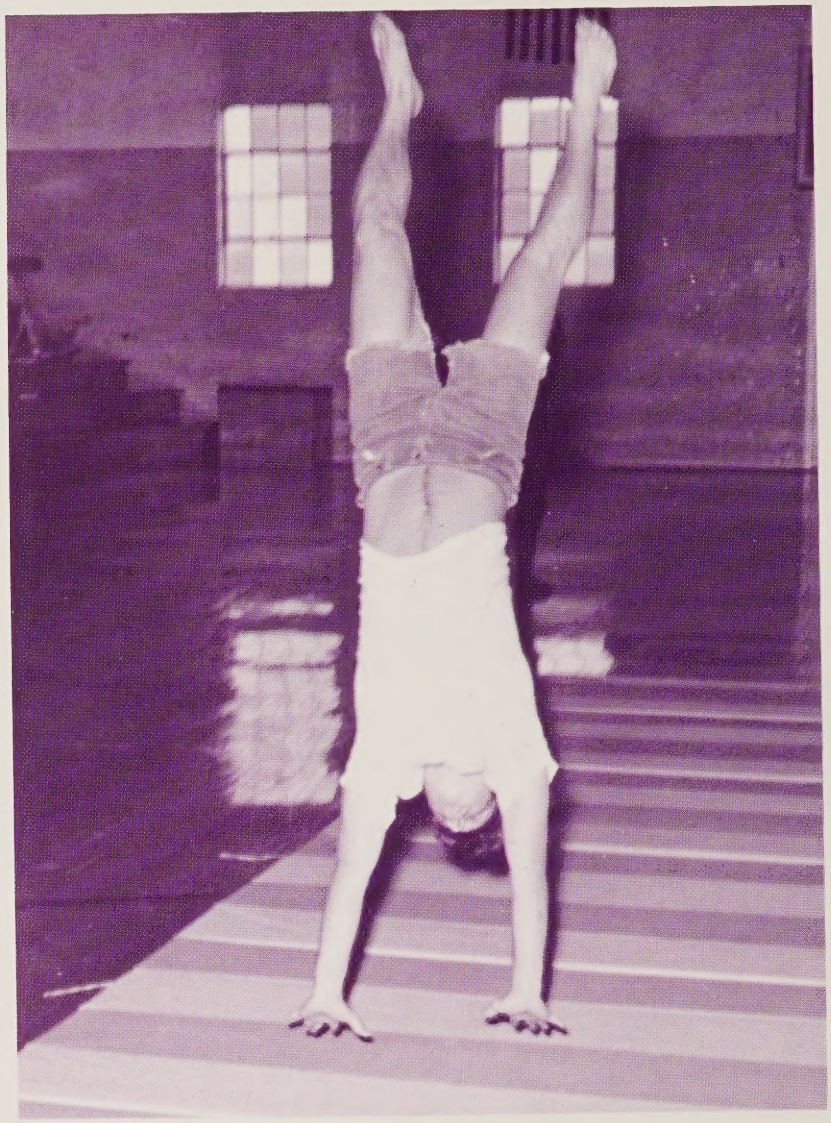
Mr. Summey's U.S. History, World History, and Economics classes made extensive use of audio-visual aids and group work. One of Mr. Summey's major contributions to the social studies program was his sponsorship of the annual Voice of Democracy Contest.

BUSINESS

Each student in Miss Cody's Office Practice class was assigned for one day a week to a teacher to type and help with general clerical duties. In this way they put to practical use skills learned in shorthand and bookkeeping classes. Mr. Coble's students found that the techniques acquired in Typing I and II and Business Math were of present, as well as of potential future use.

GYMNASTICS

The upside-down world of gymnastics, under the direction of Mr. Bill Whitmire, is a comparatively new feature of the physical education program, which emphasizes in boys' classes tag football and softball. Mrs. Rosemary Pace, teacher of girls' PE, provides training in such sports as tumbling, trampoline, volleyball and softball.

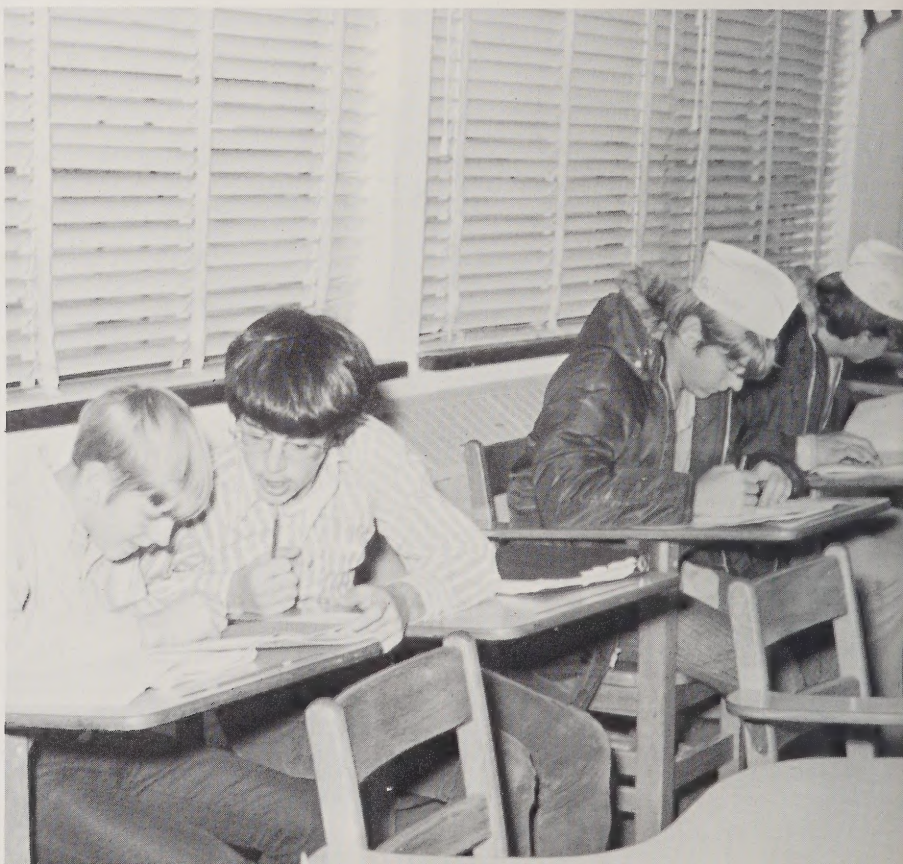


LIBRARY SCIENCE

The Edneyville library received a facelifting last summer with new shelves and new gold carpeting. Additional reference materials, books, and audio-visual aids required the moving of many supplementary books into the English classrooms. Mrs. Margaret Lawter and her library science class, as a result of these innovations, were able to provide many more services.

INTRODUCTION TO VOCATIONS

Through filmstrips, vocational literature, and field trips, Miss Margaret Blocker helped her I. V. students to narrow their wide field of vocational preferences. Field trips to such industrial and historical locations as Gerber, Biltmore Estates, and Carl Sandburg's home gave her classes a better view of the working world. Books such as THE OCCUPATIONAL HANDBOOK provided the students a chance to choose from 20,000 different jobs. Several career people spoke to the classes giving them an idea of possible choices.

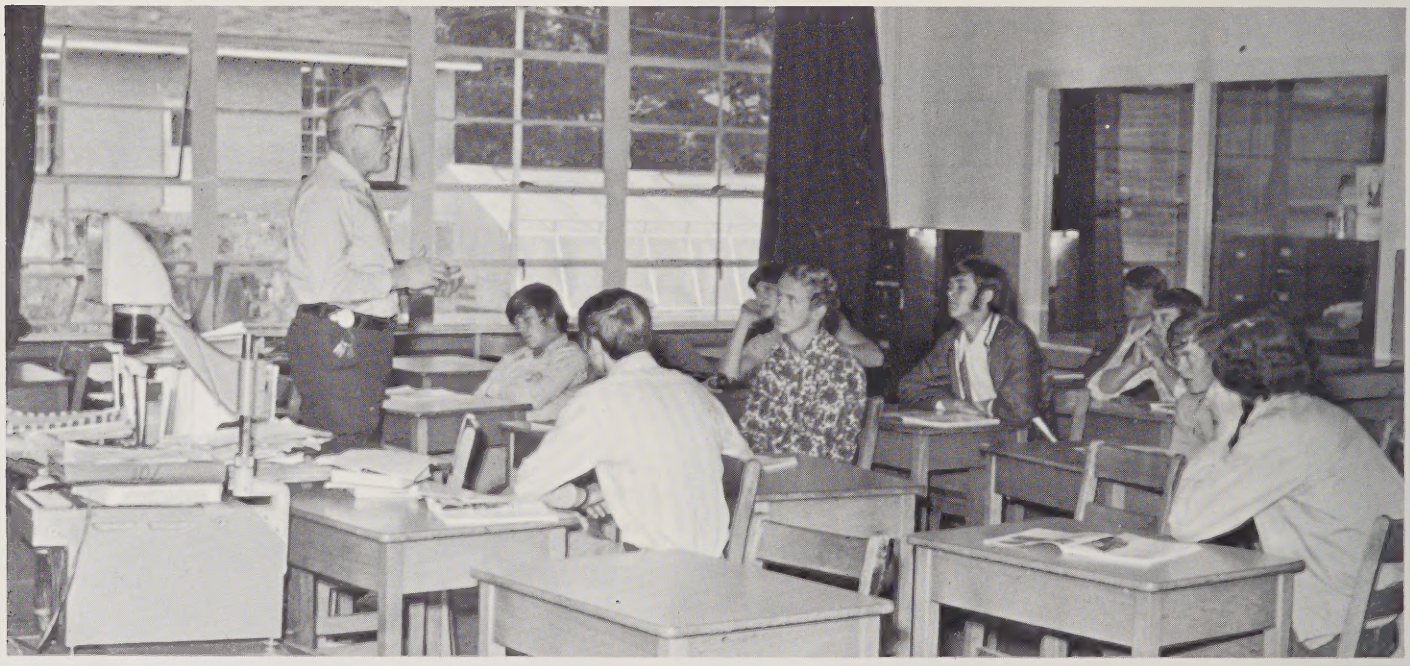


TRADE AND INDUSTRY

Mr. Lancaster provided his classes not only with trowels and mortar but also with a salable skill.

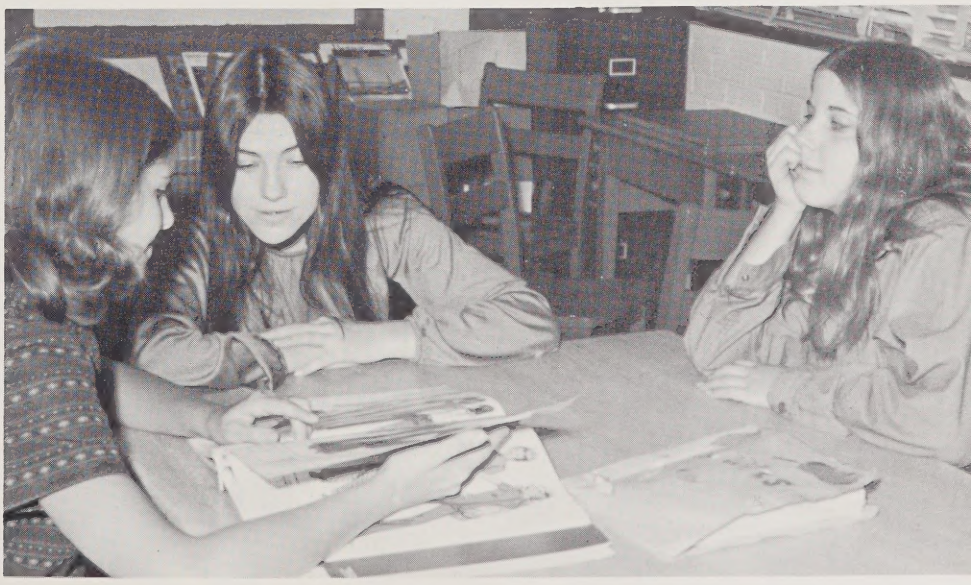
AGRICULTURE

In addition to a basic introductory course in agriculture, Mr. Gaylerd Davis taught specialized classes in horticulture and farm mechanics. Whether teaching better methods for growing vegetables or the mechanics of a tractor, Mr. Davis emphasized preparation for vocations.



HOME ECONOMICS

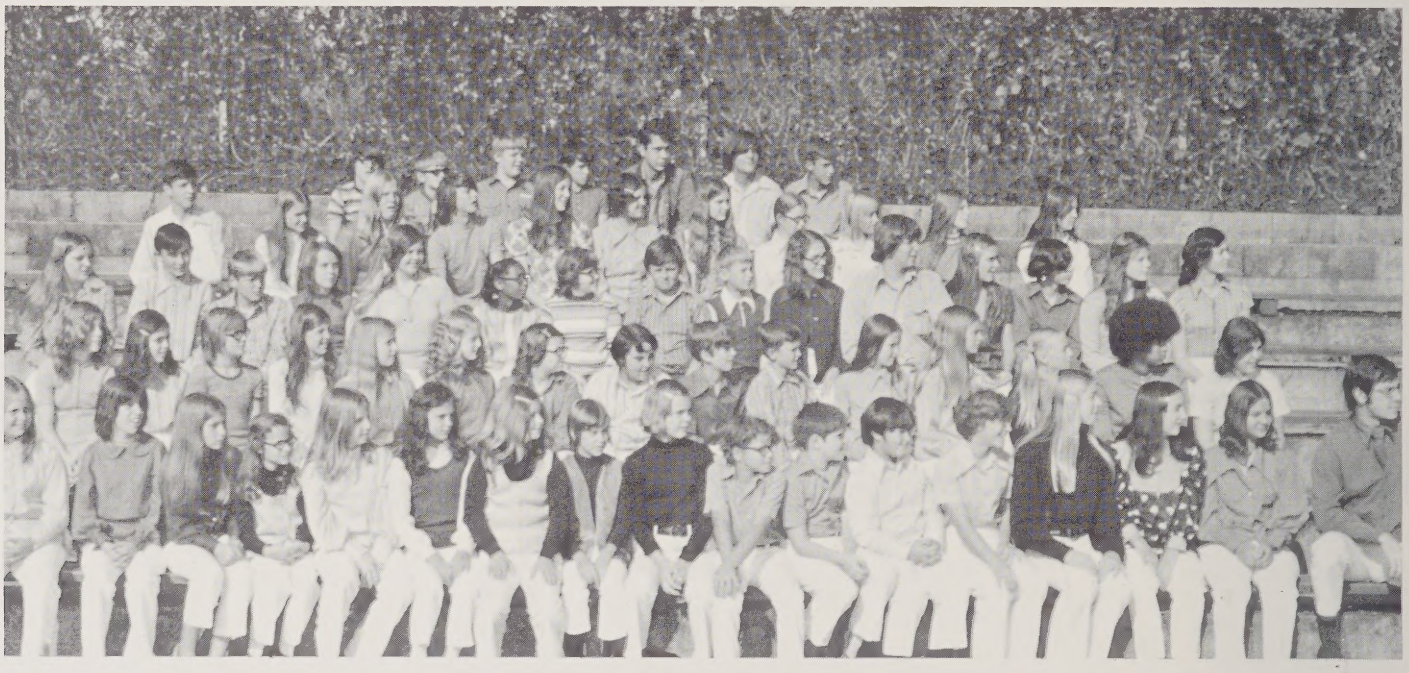
Miss Frances Messer's home economics classes, in connection with a unit on decorating, antiqued chairs, tables, cabinets, and shelves in their classroom. Other activities were divided into nine-week cooking and sewing units with emphasis on budgeting. A highlight of sewing classes was fashioning garments to be modeled in the annual spring fashion show.



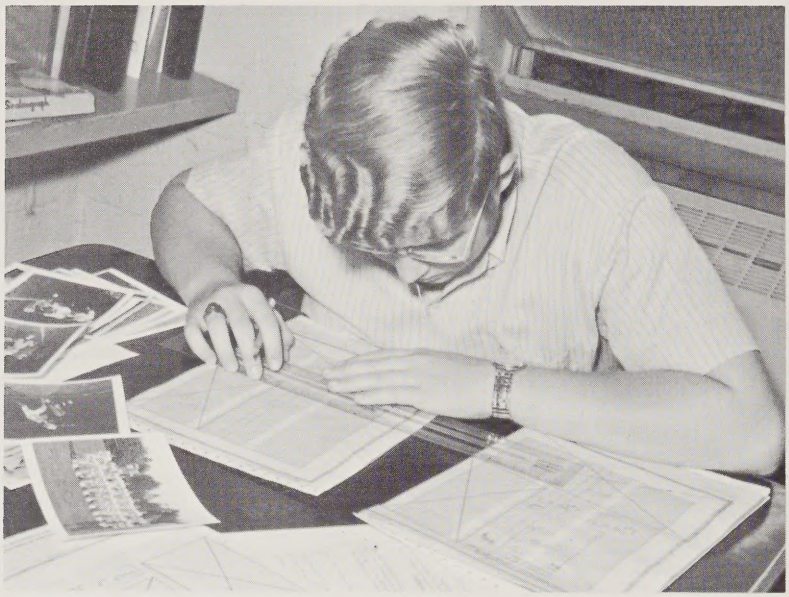
BAND AND CHORUS

Under the supervision of "Chief Battle-axe" Annie Burley, the swinging pilgrims rocked their way through another annual Thanksgiving program. Chuck Hill, a modern-day thinker, and Alton Cox, a strict pilgrim, argued over the traditions of Thanksgiving in a humorous and creative way. The different scenes involved everything from a pack of wild Indians trying to hook an audition on the Ed Sullivan Show to a boat full of tipsy pilgrims singing their way to a new land.

Mr. Robert Black assumed command of the band this year, directing the band through spirited numbers during the pep rallies. Under his leadership, the band grew. The band bravely blew and beat its way through its repertoire at football games.



ANNUAL STAFF



With resolution and energy the members of the 1972-73 annual staff set out in the early spring to capture and record the changing moods of the people of E.H.S. Through persistent seeking of moods, we finally realized that nowhere was there a better treasure chest of moods than in our own active annual staff.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Jimmy Stepp and the guidance of their captain, Kay Wilson, the majorettes practiced long hours after school and on weekends. Twirling batons and graceful movements helped make band programs interesting and boosted school spirit.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

AND FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The projects of the F.H.A. this year included participation in the district rally and county workshop, work on individual degrees of homemaking merit, and a Christmas project. The organization was led by officers: Mary Marlowe, parliamentarian; Mackie Sinclair, reporter; Frieda McCrary, historian; Susan Neal, vice-president; Anice Jones, president; Sandy Youngblood, county historian; Vicki Nix, secretary; Tava Orr, recreation leader; Debbie Harrell, treasurer.

F.F.A., sponsored by Gaylerd Davis, entered groups in such projects this year as the state fair in Raleigh, tool contest at West High, and land judging at Horse Shoe Bend in Etowah, where they won third place. Officers leading this club are: Robert Knowles, president; Steve Starling, vice-president; Kenny Barnwell, secretary; Trent Brown, treasurer; Steve Staton, reporter; Billy T. Williams, sentinel. These boys learn the why and the how of agriculture.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The major project of the Monogram Club this year was to raise money for new jackets for members and for the annual Monogram banquet. Selling candy and tumbler sets made these projects possible.

An active group, the 1972 E.H.S. Key Club completed many projects. The boys worked to achieve their goals, worked faithfully in the concession stand to make money to fund their varied projects, and lived up to their motto, "We build." Monitoring the halls, raising and lowering the flag, parking cars, checking the school's oil supply, giving time and money to worthy causes, and conducting fire drills were some of their activities. The club chose well-rounded boys to be a part of the club. For the second year in succession a member of this club held the Division 1-B West Lt. Governorship. Danny P. Jones held this office this year.

HOMECOMING

The following pages record the activities of the 1972 Homecoming. Each day was filled with new events as the week began with the nominating of the homecoming representatives. After-school hours were filled with the practicing of the feminine teams for the powder puff football game which, although postponed the week of homecoming, took place the following week with even more spirit. Bulletin boards were decorated with bright colored posters expressing the mood set by the theme, "Revolution of the Mind." Next came the Homecoming pep rally which was enthusiastic, deafening, and full of spirit as all classes competed for the spirit stick. Original skits were written and performed by members of each class. The Junior class carried away the honor of having the best skit and captured the coveted spirit stick. Friday night in the football game Edneyville lost to Spruce Pine 28-0. During half-time the nominees for Homecoming Queen were escorted out onto the field to await the final decision for Homecoming queen. Finally the crackling loud speaker announced that Debbie Harrell had captured the title of Homecoming Queen. The eventful week ended with a sock-hop in the gym for the new reigning Homecoming Queen, Debbie Harrell.

Becky Rogers, Anita Mull.

POWDER PUFF

"Get that ball!" was the cry heard throughout this year's Senior-Freshman vs. Junior-Sophomore powder puff football game. The not-so-feminine-acting players blocked each other, ran for passes, and fumbled for the ball. Cheers were heard from the sexy cheerleaders as ravashing Royetta Owenby walked onto the field to be crowned powder puff queen. Although tears trickled down the cheeks of voluptuous Chuckie Hill, everyone still displayed great school spirit as the Senior-Freshman team came through with a winning score of 20-6.

EDNEYVILLE
HOME OF THE YELLOW JACKETS

Festive spirits combined with rhythmic music to set the mood for the 1971-72 Junior-Senior. Students flowed into the brightly decorated Holiday Inn to listen and dance to the music created by "The Lightyear." Fellow Juniors and Seniors settled into the lively atmosphere of the theme expressed as "Spirit of Youth."

As the evening moved on, girls in exquisite dresses slipped off their shoes in order to move more comfortably to the flow of the captivating music. With almost ceremonial movements, the boys in stiff shirts and tuxedos loosened their ties as they walked across the crowded dance floor to choose a partner.

The evening drew to a close with a lingering good night song, leaving all with a pleasant memory of gay moods.

ATHLETICS

JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL

The junior high team finished with a total of six wins and no losses under the coaching of Mr. Henry Coble. The team's fine offense scored high in each game while the team's defense kept their opponents scoring low in each game. Usually they could not score at all. Under the leadership of co-captains, Mike Nix and Frank Connor, the team had a successful season.

The 1972 football season brought with it a detressing time. The team's wins ran three out of the ten games played. The injuries to halfback Jeff Holbert and fullback Joe Connor and other minor injuries to quarterback David Jones, middle guard Chuck Hill, tackle Bradley Schnyder, kicker Tony Brown, and center Tim Reed, hampered the team's playing ability. The consolidation of the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams made a total of thirty-four players.These young football sportsmen,though giving their best, but not as successfully as their predecessors, failed. But despite their many failures, the Yellow Jackets kept giving their best ... trying harder and harder to achieve an unknown goal ... keeping a high morale ... and most of all, SPIRIT.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

This year the 1972-1973 cheerleaders attended cheerleading camp at Brevard at which time they developed a whole new style of cheerleading. Although it was a tough season, there were many close games. By cheering in pep rallies, selling V-I-C-T-O-R-Y ribbons, and having bake sells to earn money for uniforms, the cheerleaders tried to strengthen the school spirit. Mrs. Rosemary Pace supported and accompanied the Varsity squad on all of their trips to distant schools.

Mrs. Rosemary Pace sponsored the J. V. Cheerleaders, who with their battle cries, attempted to lead their teams to victory. They were busy this year attending camp at Brevard, raising money through bake sales to buy uniforms, and working at pep rallies.

ABOVE: Lonnie Freeman, Patsy Laughter, Ellen Laughter, Ruthie Fowler, Becky Rogers, Vickie Corn, Tava Orr, Captain.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The team practiced strenuous hours doing exercises, running laps around the gym, running backbreakers, working on foul shots, and setting up and drilling on defenses and offenses. The coaching of John Whitmire and the able leadership of captains, Harold Pryor and Russell Lyda, sparked the team to victory after victory. Although the team did not win every game, they put all they were capable of into the sport. The team's most effective defense was a two-one-two zone where the players displayed their maneuverability in protecting the goal. Their most potent offense was a stack against a man-to-man defense and a one-three-one against a zone defense. With these plays, the 1972-1973 Boys' Varsity Basketball team prove to be an alert squad.

The mood of determination showed in the body language of the track team for 1972. The lifted foot of eager anticipation portrayed the consistent striving for victory. With the coming of each event, sprints, distance runs, or field events came new hope and bursts of determination. Under the coaching of Mr.Coble, the team, with a total of 18 participants, finished second in the conference.

The team participated in the 120 high hurdles, 180 low hurdles, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 880 yard run, 1 mile run, 2 mile run, 440 ralay, 880 relay, 1 mile relay, 1 mile medley, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, and discus.

LOWER LEFT: Frankie Waters hands off the baton to former Edneyville athlete Greg Lancaster, to lead the field to a victory in a relay event.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Philip H. Croft, "whether right or wrong," administers the business of Edneyville School with the help of other personnel, such as Mrs. Pearl Pace, school secretary; Mrs. Margaret Lawter, librarian and guidance councelor, and Mrs. Barbara Lackey, library aide. Mr. Croft worked toward providing a satisfying atmosphere for both students and teachers. With all his responsibilities, he also took time out to work on a special project-leading his work crew around the school and keeping the school unusually clean.

Counseling with students, directing candy sales, checking magazine forms, creating interesting class projects were a few of the additional duties of teachers besides teaching. Two changes which pleased teachers this year were that they did not have to keep a register or have to do morning bus duty.

1973 PROJECTS

As astonished freshmen we entered high school eager to make our presence felt. We considered many projects and began with a bake sale. In the following years we sold football stop signs and Tom Wat. From the funds we collected in three years our Junior-Senior prom was the crowning highlight of our junior year. To climax our school years the remaining funds went to our Senior trip to Washington, D.C.

CLASS OF 1975

Having entered the second year of high school, the sophomores overcame some of the uncertainties of the unfamiliar high school environment such as opening lockers and getting to class on time. The sophomores elected these students to be the class leaders for the 1972-1973 year: Mike Newman, president; Vicki Nix, vice-president; Kathy Hamberis, secretary; and Terry Pack, treasurer.

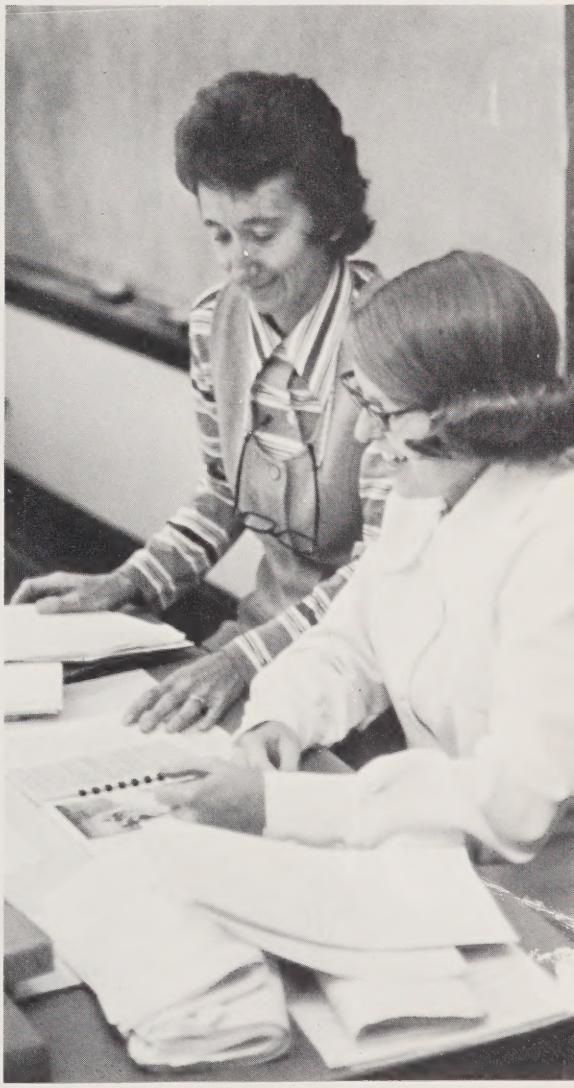
JUNIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL AND BETA CLUB

The Jr. High Student Council elected Renae Moss, secretary; Sue Moon, president; Verna Orr, vice-president; and Pam Green, treasurer to lead the Junior High students. As sponsor, Mrs. Case assisted the council in projects such as bake sales to raise a part of the money of 1972.

Twenty-four students with an average of ninety or higher in the seventh and eighth grades made the Junior High Beta Club. Since its beginning three years ago the Beta Club has promoted service for the school under the sponsorship of Mrs. Duncan. The club's officers for the 1972-1973 school year were Bonnie Burrell, treasurer; Scotty Justus, president; Lisa Bradley, secretary; and Mike Jackson, vice-president.



EIGHTH GRADE

The Eighth grade is the study of North Carolina history and the reviewing of the fundamentals of math and science.

at General Electric

our people never take off their caps and gowns . . . .

We're glad that you are about to finish up an important part of the learning process in your life. . .as you complete high school, and take yet another path of learning.

Another path, we say, because life is one long learning adventure. Learning never stops.

At General Electric's Lighting Systems Business Department, for instance, our people are constantly about the business of learning and improving. They accomplish this through on-the-job training. . . through advance courses offered at our plant. . .and through specialized studies at various institutions of higher learning.

It's standard practice at GE for men and women who want better jobs to keep learning as they continue earning. And in that sense, they never take off their caps and gowns!

Progress is our most important product

VOICE OF DEMOCRACY

With "My Responsibility to Freedom" as the theme, this year's speakers spoke about social problems: prejudice, political achievement, and self involvement. Mr. John Summey sponsored the Voice of Democracy Contest in which Cheryl Hill won first place and twenty-five dollars. She declared, "Our reliance is in the love of liberty which God has planted in us." She further stated, "Let our object be our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country." Debbie Jackson placed second winning fifteen dollars. Wanda Moon won third place winning ten dollars.

Contestants were BOTTOM: Pam Prim, Lynn Lackey, Debbie Jackson, Wanda Moon, and Cheryl Hill.

NEW MOODS 73

Men in the Kitchen, Wood-carving, Powderpuff, Mechanics, Wildlife Conservation, Square Dancing, Needlecraft, Table Games, First Aid, Model Building — with subjects like these the curriculum at E.H.S. took on a new look this year. During the "float" periods students pursued subjects of interest taught by the regular high school faculty and visiting instructors.

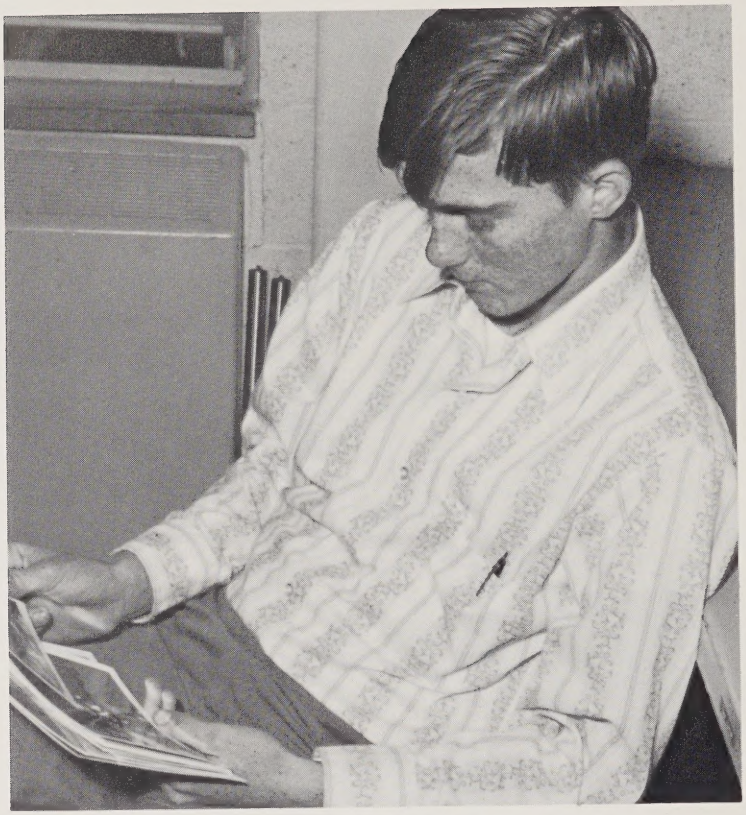
Community residents from many walks of life, such as Mrs. Stehlik in Art, Mrs. Ward in first aid, and Mr. Reeves and his friends in woodcarving contributed their time and expertise.

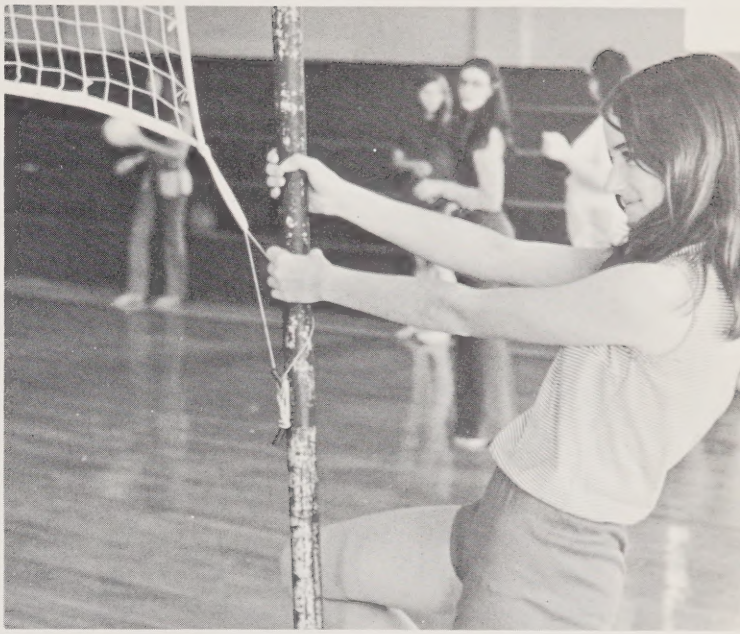
Other evidences of innovation appeared in the new gym, which opened during the year, the new carpet in the library, and the new right to vote for eighteen year olds.

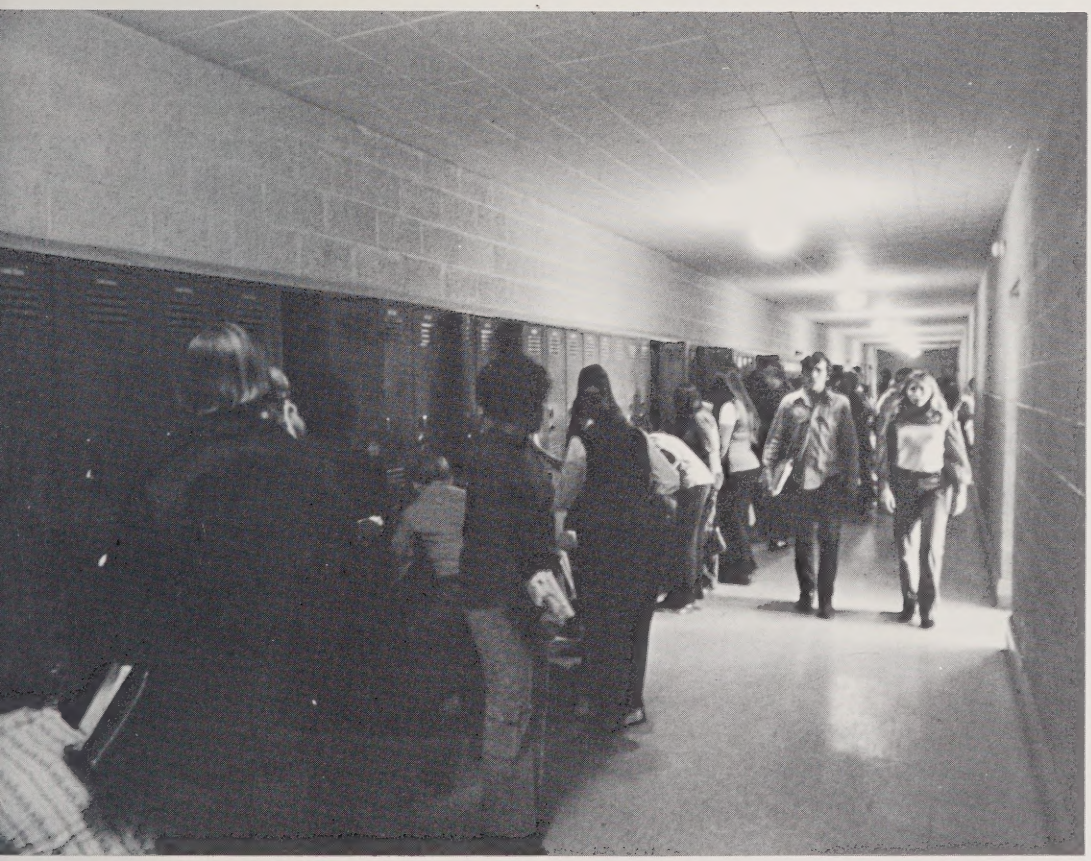
Stepped-on toes, swollen ankles, sprawling arms and off-beat steps made the nine week square dancing float taught by Miss Blocker more interesting. Nevertheless, by the end of the course the students had learned such dances as Ladies Bow, Gents Know How; Grand Right and Left, Four leaf Clover and Open the Garden Gate. Although these involved such complicated steps as Right Hand Cross, Promonade, Weaving the Basket and Over and Under, the students soon acquire the ability to do them with little error.

A steady hand and a sharp eye were necessary tools in woodcarving as students using skews, gouges, and pen knives to shape, sand, and refinish such objects as ducks, owls, mushrooms, and naturally, apples.

Slopping mops, pails of detergent, and swishing brooms made the scene not only in home economics classes but also in the halls of EHS as Mr. Croft's work crew scrubbed bathrooms, cleaned windows, and mopped stairs.







Hulking bodies, gritted teeth, strained muscles and quick movements — all were a definite part of the wrestling float, taught by Mr. Coble.

Sponsored by Mr. Dan Pace, the annual staff received a credit for their work, as did members of the Chorus, taught by Mrs. Annie Burley, and the band, directed by Mr. Robert Black.

Recreational activities provided students with a means of escape from the normal day's activities. Games such as basketball and volleyball gave each person a chance to display his own athletic skill.

EIGHTEEN YEAR OLD VOTE

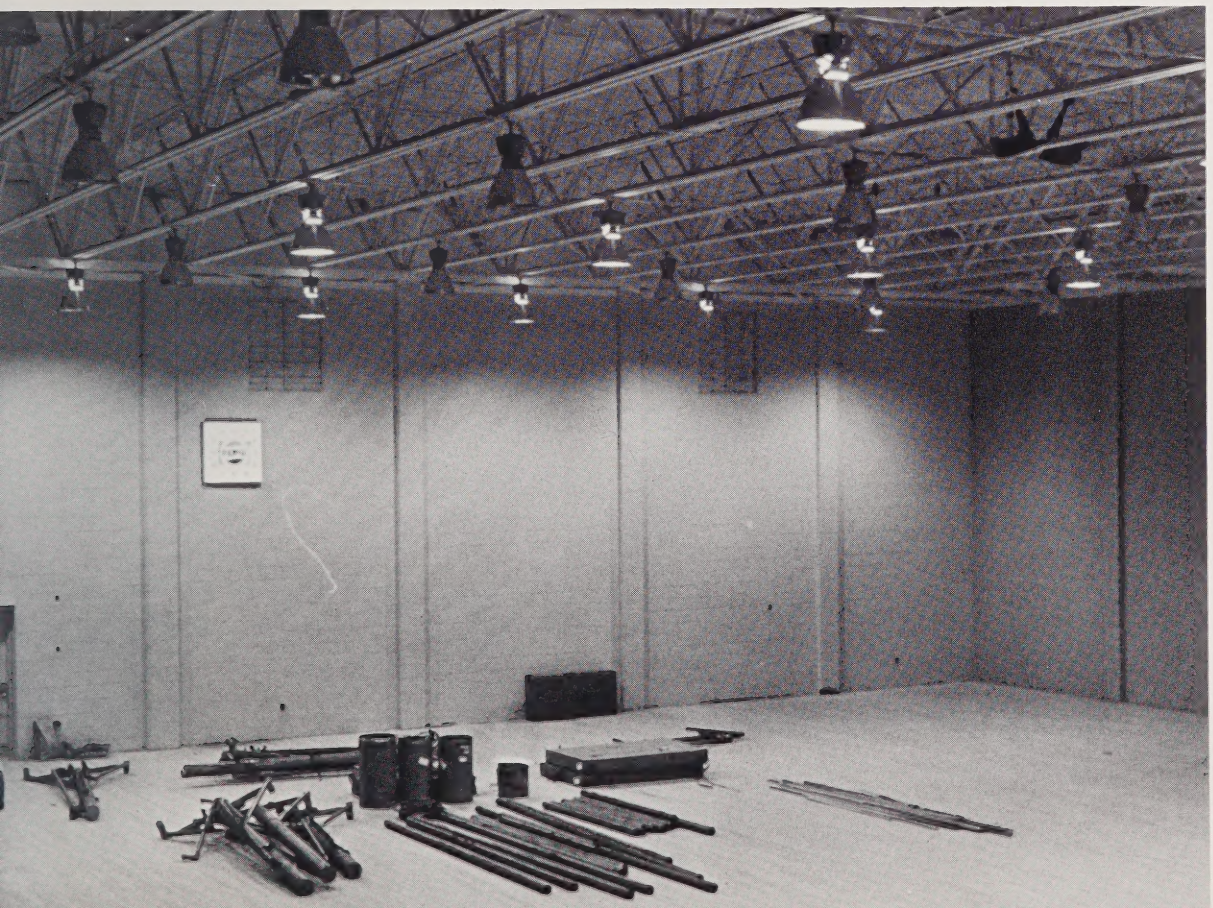
With the right to vote extended by the 26th Amendment to eighteen year olds for the first time, Edneyville students expressed a greater interest in national affairs.

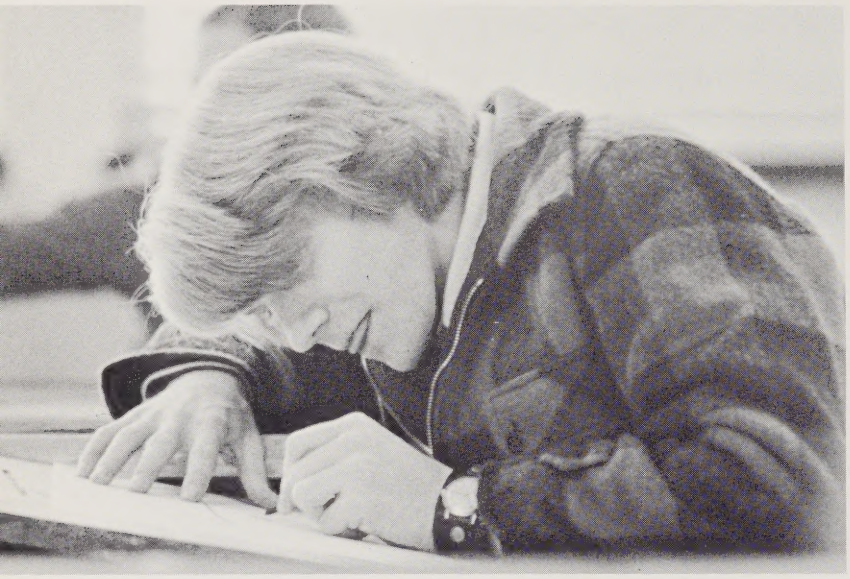
An assembly program shortly before the election brought candidates Roy Taylor and Ruth Semaschko to speak and answer questions in an assembly. Students' questions ranged from drug legalization and new gun laws to roa improvement prospects.

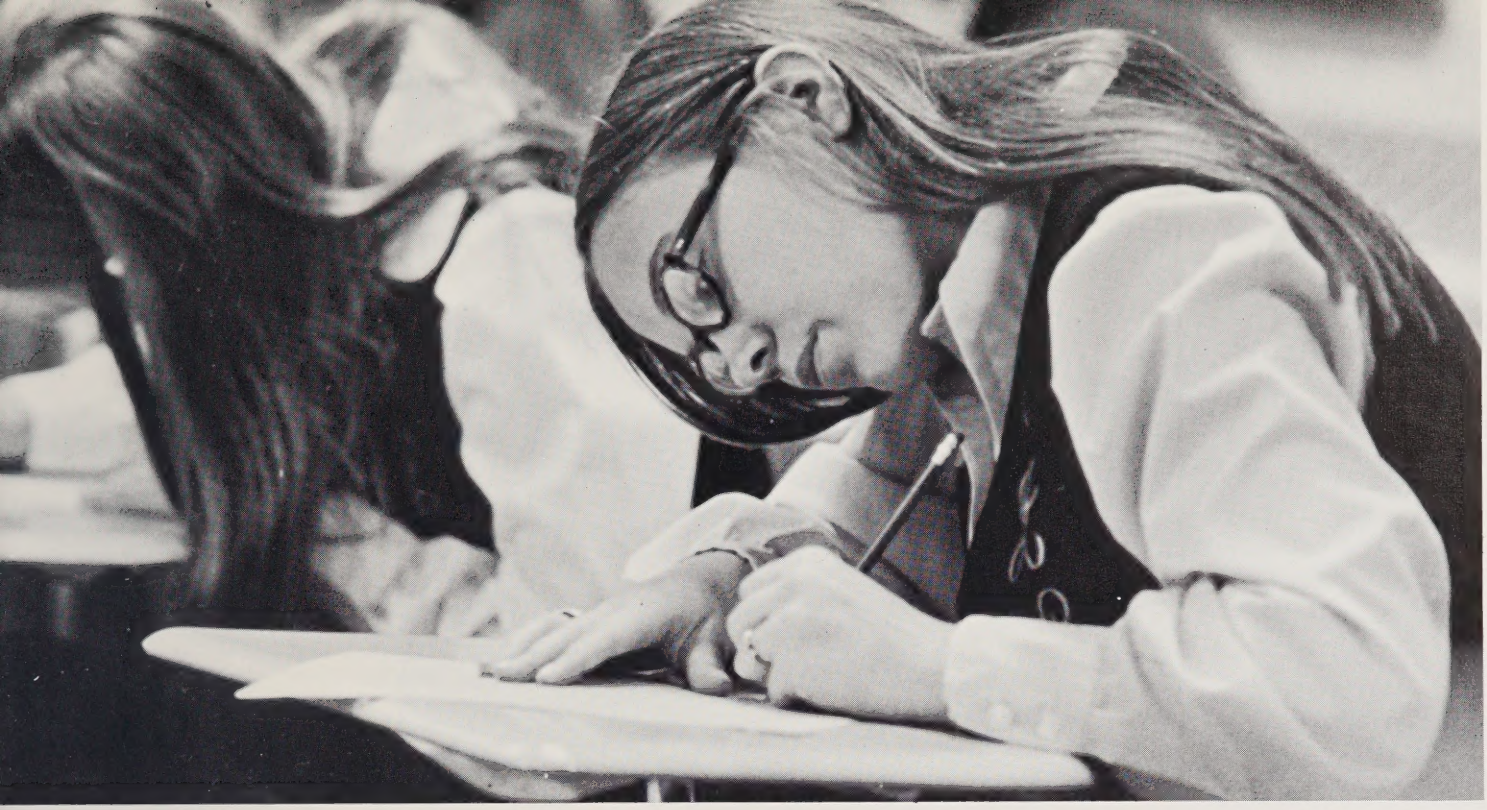
One student, Fred Hathcock, was especiall active in the campaign, displaying banners an buttons on his truck and his clothing and re cruiting students for the cause of his party whose convention he attended in Miami Beach.

NEW GYM

Despite such problems as faulty radiator deflectors, late shipment of heaters, and rainy weather the completion of the new gymnasium was the subject of much anticipation by the students and faculty of EHS.







The mood of our school flows along, often mysteriously, experienced and felt, but not adequately defined. It is a unique mood, expressed in the disappointment of a lost game, the shock of passing an English test, or the elation of an unexpected snowfall.

Moods are the rhythms of our thoughts, and actions; they hinder or accelerate, setting the pace of our lives, continously diverting us into new, uncharted, and challenging courses.
